My dear Mrs Wetzel

I certainly appreciate your interest in my Sweet Ancestry. A few years ago the health of one of my bro-in Law failed so he had to give up his excellent position and moved from the house they occupied in Conn to a 4 room apartment in Mass where they were nearer their only son. Among their discards was a History of Washington and Kent Counties Rhode Island which I was glad to have as in going over it I found many references to my early ancestors. Having learned of more of them since that time, this week I got out the bulky volumne and have been looking through it again and am copying some of the references to Sweets as you may be able to get some help from them. I note in yours of Oct 2 '72 you think my "Matthew of Smithfield may have been a possible descendant of Daniel[7] James[3] John[2] John[1] and that this Daniel was probably of Glocester R.I." Probably you are not aware that Smithfield and Glocester are adjoining towns which makes it even more probable you are correct as that goes back to days of horseback travel.

pr 536/9 History of Washington and Kent Co Rhode Island

"The Sweet Family. The family of Sweets, bonesetters have made quite a history in the south county, although they are not recognized by the regular profession in the same way Updike, Hazard and other writers have done. xxxx. Updike says "that James Sweet, the father of Benoni, emigrated from Wales to this country and purchased an estate at the foot of Ridge Hill, so called, in North Kingston. ..... Benoni had been a captain in the British service, was well informed and of polished manners. He was a natural bonesetter, and progenitor of the race in Rhode Island xxx July 19th, 1751, says the record died Captain Benoni Sweet of North Kingstown in the ninetieth year of his age. Job, one of the family, obtained an eminent and wide-spread reputation as a natural bone setter." Here follow some examples of his success. "Though totaly unlearned in surgery, Doctor Job Sweet seldom if ever failed in his bone setting operations. Mr Hazard, in his "Recollections of Olden Times, thus speaks of him" and more examples given, "Benoni, son of Job, born Oct 1762, removed to Lebanon Conn, where, until his death, he was very celebrated as a natural bone-setter. Doctor Job Sweet early in life moved to South Kingstown and settled near Sugar Loaf Hill, where his descendants have continued to practice since his time."

"Jonathan, another son of Job, born Sept 6 1765, settled at Sugar Loaf Hill, near Wakefield where he resided until his death about 1820. Gideon, an elder brother, used occasionaly to set bones when Jonathan was out of the way, but on no other occasions. Job Sweet finally removed to Boston and his brother William, born Oct 28 1802 of Sugar Loaf Hill, commenced bone setting, but in accordance with the usages of the family, whereby only one of its members habitually practices in a neighborhood, he gave way to his brother John, son of Gideon, who relinquished farming that he might devote his whole time to the business of bone-setting. After a time John removed to New Bedford, and William resumed bone setting in South Kingstown. Of his children Job, the eldest son, a skillful bone setter, practiced in New Bedford, and George, the younger son, practices the profession in Wakefield. William H. Sweet, another son of William, lives with Job, but practices principally in Boston and elsewhere. Jonathan, another son, lives in Providence. Thomas, another son, practiced in Providence for ten years, until his death in 1867 Edward, youngest son of William, lives at the homestead. xxx more examples of bone setting "Doctor William Sweet probably attended thousands of cases, yet he never had a patient die on his hands."

"John T. G. Sweet. The Sweet family of western Rhode Island, for many years numerous in No. Kingstown, Exeter and adjacent towns, are understood to be of English extraction. The Exeter branch of this old family are descended from John Sweet, who with his father John, came to the Narragansett country before the American revolution, when but two years of age. The name John had descended to them from direct male ancestors and has been transmitted with various initials to every generation since. This John Sweet, who came to Exeter as a child, had a descendant, either son or grandson, who bore his name and served in the colonial army in 1776. One of the sons of John Sweet of the revolution was Daniel, who is remembered in Exeter as Deacon Sweet. He had 6 children of whom only the youngest, Albert, survives. The home place passed to the Deacons son John G xx who mar Hannah Gardiner ?? and raised 3 children. John T. G-, Daniel and Mercy Ann. She mar Jeremiah Fenner. ---

I remember when a small girl of my father telling us of "bonesetter Sweets" altho I do not know if he said they were of our sort. My oldest daughter has been mar. over 22 years. I know she wrote many years ago of her husband taking some one in his car to Jewett City Conn to be treated by bonesetter Byron Sweet, a resident there. He has been dead a number of years - Left a son Byron of whom I read not long ago as extensively engaged in poultry business.

If I'd only have become interested in genealogy, say, 40 years ago how much more data I might have accumulated. Well I had no time then. Even now I suppose I have a wonderful amount considering my very limited opportunities

This family has just passed through a trying time. Ours is a dairy farm and our 21 yr old son, Jr, delivers cream and some milk and any vegetables, eggs, etc we have, twice weekly to mostly private trade in near by villages. A husky 6 footer, 4 weeks ago tomorrow he was too ill to get up. Dr thought it scarlet fever – next day found it was, definitely. Reported it and health officers from both town and state called that same day but not at once next day those 2 with state food commissioner and our regular dairy inspector met here for consultation and decided our son Erwin, who lives on a farm adjoining ours that he recently bought could take over our dairy business, moving all equipment for care of it to his home and milk taken to next town to be pasteurized. Of course we were quarantined - A widowed dau, and her children of 6 and 8, live with us and she nursed Jr who got along fine. Quarantine just "lifted" today altho we'd been expecting the h.o for the past 6 days. During Jr's illness the 6 yr old had 3 visits from Dr for an abcess on neck – Today the Dr advised his being taken to hospital as abcess isn't clearing up. "Pa Q" took him and daughter to hospital and he visited our Erwin wife who had a 9 lb 5 oz son born there 8 at A.M: this makes 12 grandsons and 12 grand daughters. We have 11 children all marr. except Jr. and 2 sisters one of the latter wrote us last week of her engagement. This dau teaches in Vt. All our other children are within a few miles of "home." Hope you find something of interest in this data. Sincerely yours

Mrs Vera Sweet has Origin

I am taking the liberty of sending your address to one I know is seeking data of her Sweet ancestry asking her to send you what she has hoping you will be mutualy helpful. Like myself she was in "a dead end street" when I last heard from her. My objective is to trace as many of my lines as I can to the emigrant which in many instances I have been able to do even tho most of them came here by 1650. As a Sweet, it is annoying, that I am unable to complete that line. I am helped by the fact that most of my ancestors were early in R.I. Only last Friday I was in the Potowomut section where John[2] had his gristmill. I have never inquired as to its exact location. My research means much to me as I am unable to get around much due to arthritis stiffened joints and a leg shortened 12 yrs. ago by a broken hip: too I am so deafened I am unable to hear ordinary conversation. I am cheered by your offer to keep my problem in mind and you may be sure I am ready to help you in any way with these Foster R.I. Sweets

Sincerely yours

The Family of "Swett"

is often confused with that of Sweet - Possibly in old England at any early date they may have been the same - but in America the two families seem to be entirely seperated.

TREWIN, NOW CALLED TRAYNE OR TRAINE.

Very important

OLD TRAINE, Modbury, Devonshire, England.

John Terry lived here in the reign of Henry IV, (1367-1413) and the name Trewin was derived from his name. The next owners were the Scoos who owned the Manor House for several generations. About the middle of the 16th century (1550) the heiress of Old Traine, Johane Scoos married John Swete and in this way, the Manor House became the property of the Sweet family. Over the gateway leading to Old Traine is the date the manor house was built; 1472 and the Sweet? coat-of-arms carved in stone. About the middle of the 19th century (1850) the Manor House was bought by Andrews family and the present owner, Mr. Rogers, inherited it from an Andrews uncle.

EARLY ENGLISH HISTORY OF THE SWEET FAMILY (stat pages of orig.
Compiled by (sent by H.A.Arnold
Rev.JOHN SWEET,1810 ? ? pp.3,4.

TRAINE or TRAYNE,formerly spelled Trewyn,in Modbury,appears to have been a place of note,as far back as the year 1262,and was then called in Latin, Tena de Arboribus;and gave name of its possessor,William de Arboribus,to whom it was conveyed in fee,by a deed dated in June of that year(and still existing)from an Abbey of St.Peter,with a name of designation not easy to be understood.(The Abbot is styled in the deed "Abbas S'te Pet sup S'main", this last word seems in itself inexplicable,but possibly might be ascertained by consulting Dugdalis Monasticon,or some other book,which gives an account of the Ancient Religious Houses in England.Perhaps the College of Eton may have records or writing which would elucidate it)

By this deed it appears that the Abbey had an intimate connection with the Priory of Modbury(Motberie)which probably was dependant on it;and there is reserved a yearly rent of 10 s payable at the Feast of St.Michael the Archangel,which rent continues to be regularly paid out of Train at Old Michaelmas to the College of Eton,who now posesses the revenues which,before the dissolution,appertained to the Priory.There can therefore be no doubt of it being the same Priory,though how it acquired its present name does not certainly appear;but as the Saxon termination "win" denotes the place of a battle or victory,perhaps the name of Trewyn may with some degree of plausibility be deduced from that of de Arboribus.

In the beginning of the Reign of Henry VII,(and probably long before) Trewyn appears to have been the inheritance of a family named Scoos or Scose, and on the death of John Scoos in the latter end of the reign of Henry VIII, (by,in,or before 1541)it descended (with lands at Brownstone and elsewhere)to his heir qt law JOHN SWETE of Upton in South Milton,whos family appears to have been residents of that place in the time of Henry the VI 1438 (A small estate at Upton still belongs to the family and was probably their ancient residence,the house appearing evidently to have been once the dwelling of some substancial person and much more than adequate to the tenement on which it now stands)

The name of Scoos seems to have become extinct,and it appears that JOHN SWETE was undoubtably the heir at law,his title was strongly litigated in the Court of Chancery and Starr Chamber,as well as by the College of Eton who (20 yrs later after the death of Scoos)set up a title by eacheat,suggesting that he died without an heir,also by 3 women,who laid claim as coheiresses, and would have #### certainly been so had they not been excluded as being only of the half blood of the deceased.Their suit was comprimised without a hearing;but how the suits by the College were ended do not appear.The circumstances however are sufficient to show that Scoos must have died since the first act for dissolution of Abbeys which was in the 27th year of Henry VIII (1535)as otherwise the College of Eton(being not then Lords of The Manor) could ### have had no pretense for setting up a claim to an escheat for want of an heir.

JOHN SWETE,upon his acquisition,appears to have removed to Trayne,which remained in possession of him and his descendants of the name until the 11th year of the reign of James I (### 1613) when it came to Adrian Swete,who married Judith,the daughter and as it seems,the only child of John Mayne of Lower Preston in Ermington,whereby that estate and ###### Wadland Wood,etc., came into the family.(The name of JOHN SWETE appears in the old leases from the beginning of Queen Elizabeth's Reign;but it cannot be supposed that JOHN SWETE who died in 1613 was the same person who became possessed in 1541 or sooner:so that here was undoubtably an intermediate descent)

ADRIAN SWETE died in the lifetime of his wife,in 1647,whereupon his son MAYNE SWETE,became the owner of Trayne and appears to be the first of the family who assumed the title of Esquire,they using that of Gentleman,before.

The Arms used by this family are not the same as the Arms used by our line on the letter (paiuse) from Teelin Hall

p.10 - apparently the subject here is Roger Williams

While in England he was the guest of Sir Henry Vase, at his residences in Lincolnshire, ##########, where he enjoyed the acquaintance of Cromwell, Milton and other leading spirits of the age. He returned to Providence in 1654, and on the 12th of September of that year he was chosen President of the Colony, which office he held until May 1658. He traveled much among the Indians and preached to them, securing the friendship of the chiefs and warriors, which he retained to his latest days.

Roger Williams died sometime between January 16, 1682 & April 25, 1683 at the age of 83 years, and "was buried with all the solemnity the colony was able to show". His remains were deposited in his own family burying ground on his home lot, a short distance only from the place where his dwelling house stood.

The home lot of Roger Williams was located on the hillside easterly from the spring where he first landed and immediatly north of Bowen Street, his house occupied very nearly the state of the present building on the north east corner at North Main and Howland streets.

The western part of the home lot of Roger Williams, fronting on North Main Street is now in possession of the heirs of Humphrey Almy, Matilda Metcalf and Harriet Richmond.

The following are the names of the owners of the original "Home Lots".

George Dexter	John Throckmorton	Chad Brown
Matthew Waller	William Harris	John Warner
Thomas Pointer	Alice Daniels	George Rickard
Edward Manton	JOHN SWEET	Richard Scott
JOHN GREENE Jr.	WILLIAM CARPENTER	William Field
Benedict Arnold	Robert Cole	John Field
Francis Wicks	Thomas Olney	Joshua Winsor
William Arnold	Thomas Angell	Thomas Harris
Thomas James	Francis Weston	Adam Goodwin
JOHN GREENE Sr.	Richard Waterman	William Burrows
John Smith	EZEKIEL HOLYMAN	WILLIAM MANN
Widow Reeve	Stukely Westcott	William Wickenden
Joshua Verin	William Reynolds	Nicholas Power
ROGER WILLIAMS	DANIEL ABBOTT	Widow Joan Tiler
Widow Jane Sears	Matthew Weston	Robert West
Thomas Hopkins	John Lippitt	William Hawkins
Edward Hart	Hugh Bewitt	Christopher Unthank
		Robert Williams

JOHN SWEET received a home lot in the first division of land at Providence. His death, soon after joining Roger Williams at Providence, left his wife and familyt to take care of themselves as best they could. Upon his eldest son John, only 18 years of age, and James two years younger, fell the responsibility of providing for the family.

Mary the widow of John, the following year (1638) married the Rev. Ezekiel Holliman who was one of the first twelve to receive deeds of land from Roger Williams.

Ezekiel Holliman is said to have been born at Tring, Hartford County England. He came to this country about 1634, and in 1637 was a resident of Salem. He removed to Providence and was the twelfth and last named in the initial deed.

In 1638-9 Roger Williams becoming dissatisfied with his early baptism, it was decided that Ezekiel Holliman "a man of gifts and piety" should be appointed to administer the ordianance by immersion, which, being done, Mr. Williams in turn baptized Mr. Holliman and 10 others. This was the origin of the First Baptist Church of Providence. This church was ministered to by Roger Williams, Ezekiel Holliman being his assistant.

Soon after the settlement of the church, about 1642, Holliman removed to Warwick, where he filled offices of trust. He was appointed deputy of the General Court, and also one of the commissioners for reuniting Providence, Portsmouth, Newport and Warwick into one corporate body.

P. 45 - Early History of Providence

"The old church records have been lost and the names of only 10 of the 12 constituents members of this Baptist church in America have been preserved. The descendants of Surgeon John Greene are confident that he and his wife were the missing members. So the family tradition has it. Some of the other names have an interest to Greene descendants. Among them are Ezekiel Holyman and wife. Ezekiel Holyman's wife came to Providence in 1636 as - Mrs. Sweet. Her husband (John Sweet) died soon after leaving two sons James and John. Then Mrs. Sweet married Mr. Holyman. Her son James, when grown, married Surgeon John Greene's youngest child, Mary. She inherited her father's ability and passed it on to her descendants, the celebrated "Boss-selling Sweets" ------ The re-baptism of adults who had been previously baptized by sprinkling, gave great offense to the home church in Mass. when they heard of it. The Salem church excommunicated the eight re-baptized members that had belonged to them. Mary Sweet Holyman and Stukeley Westcott and wife were among the number.

P. 167. The Sweets were descended from John Sweet ---- who went with Roger Williams to Providence in 1636. He died the following year, leaving a widow and 2 little sons, John and James. The year after his widow married Ezekiel Holyman who has gone down in fame as the man who performed the irregular baptism of Roger Williams late in 1638. Williams came to believe that only immersion was valid baptism. He could not get a clergyman to baptize him so Ezekiel Holyman baptized him and then Roger Williams turned immediately around and baptized Holyman, and after that the others, including Holyman's recent bride. The young Ballous were old enough to remember this occasion and doubtless it had its influence in making the first generation of the family such strong Baptists.

5 - It not real clear to me which John Perriam gave his dau. Mary "east Hilon" but was surely the father or the bro. of Sir Wm. Perriam 1534-1604 - any way there seems no doubt but what his sister is the one who m. John Sweet of Modbury and so she would be born in the 1530's or 1540's - as Sir Wm. is called eldest son, she could be older than he, even if she was 20 years younger than Sir Wm. & b. ca 1554 she would be age 71 when Merike Sweet was born. so she can't be our Mary - that's for sure. So much for that - won't to bet a cookie or 2 that our Mary was a Westcote (Westcott) ?? On the gen. map a Westcote (house or gentlemen seat) is located about 8 miles n.w. of Ottery St. Mary. (by the way have you ever seen this Atlas of Gen. Maps of Eng.? made from maps over 100 years old & pub. by Dorset (Thick) book Co. of Salt Lake City, U. - I copied the Devonshire one before loaning the book to Alta Bygine to aid her in her England trip - & see I didn't put the names of the compilers or the pub. co. on it - as above is from memory & mine may not be as good as yours. If you've not seen this - I'll make you a copy of mine, showing places the Sweet were from the various Sweet notes I've collected (paper I used was so hard to write on that I left out everything that I didn't recognize - the railroads etc. so I'd have room to put the Sweet notes - right on the map at the place referred to. Hope this makes sense.!)

Gentry: Swete, formerly of Traype, Modbury, now of Oxton; ~~by a marriage~~ the last male heir of this family, which had acquired Traype by a marriage with the heiress of Traype of that place for the Reign of Edward IV (1537-1563)"

(me: this is surely not right! Edw IV reign was 1461-83 - Edw VI reign 1547-53 - Henry VIII preceded him & reign was 1509-1547 after Edw VI was Mary 1553-58 & then Elizabeth 1558-1603 - none of these dates match those given for Edw IV - but am guessing Edw VI is the one meant - have asked Phil to check her notes to be sure she copied it correctly.) anyway it goes on - p.24 this is description of Modbury, a market town 18 miles from Plymouth & 25 miles from Exeter. It had a "great fair for cattle, cloth etc." 2/3 of the great tithes of Traype Modbury are appropriated to Eton College & the vicarage is endowed with 1/3.

P. 291 mentioned the "res. of Rev. John Swete is at Oxton which is beautifully situated & extensive pleasure grounds have been laid out with much taste." then "Rev. John Swete d. whilst this sheet was printing off" p. 573 Rev. John Swete was succeded by his son, 1821"

Sir Wm. Pole was a learned collector of valuable material for the history of his native county, which was published by his descendant in 1791; the desc. was Sir John Wm. de la Pole. Gregory Dextor Town Clerk." (Early Providence Town Records, vol. XV, p. 17. Town Paper 014).

The foregoing record is found on the reverse of the partly illegible Providence Town paper 014. From what is readable it appears that there was a false military alarm* (* The Rhode Island law provided that all inhabitants "above sixteen and under sixty years of age shall alwayes be provided of a Musket, one pound of powder, twenty bullets, and two fadom of Match, with sword, rest, bandaleers all completely furnished." Also, that an alarm "for the many incursions that we are subjected unto" shall be "Three muskets distinctly discharged and a Herauld appointed to go speedilie threw the Towne and crie Alarum! Alarum!! and the Drum to beat incessantly; all to repair . . . unto the Towne House, ther to receive information of the Town Councill what is further to be done". (Acts and Orders, General Court of Election, May 1647 - Bartlett's R.I. Colony Records, vol. I, p. 154)). given in Providence and that James Sweet beat the drum and John Sweet shot off a gun or two. Hugh Bewitt (Cf. The Providence Oath of Allegiance and Its Signers. 1651-2 (1943), by Richard LeBaron Bowen, pp. 77-81.) testified that Mr. (Richard) Scott (Cf. The Arms of Richard Scott, by Richard LeBaron Bowan, N.E.H.&G.Reg., vol. XCVI(1942)pp. 1-27.) said he had had intimation by his wife that there would be a false alarm. Thomas Baldwin told Gregory Dexter "that there was no cause for fear, that it was but a jest".

Note -

The Attleboro tradition and the Narragansett tradition were, perhaps, not speaking of the same John Sweet.

According to a tradition handed down in the Sweet family of Middletown, Massachusetts, the immigrant, John Sweet, came from Colyton, Devon, England. He himself said that he came from Wales, but similar traditions of Welsh descent became current in the eighteenth century that they are probably of no value.

James Sweet, son of John Sweet in 1652 added a letter with an unusual seal which had on its shield a chevron between three crescents (3, 2, 1) ((Prov. T. P. 0:27)). These arms are probably the ancestral arms of the family.

When John Sweet came to New England he was probably accompanied by his wife, Margaret and his children, James who was born about 1621, John, and Margaret later called Rosamond.

The earliest known record of John Sweet in the minutes of the General Court of Massachusetts Bay held at Boston on July 3, 1632. Mr. Sheltons land in Salem is described as abutting on the south river on the east, ... & on John Sweets ground on the north." ((Mass. R. I, 90))

A map showing the location of the land was printed in the Essex Institute Hist. Coll. Vol. IV, p. 17 as herewith reproduced. It was drawn (from William P. Upham of Salem) and that the creek was called Sweets Cr., from John Sweet, who was the original owner and occupant of the [illegible] on (b) would suffice, but the words who was

Ind. IV, 11))

The name "John Sweet" appears in a list dated 1836 and containing the names of persons to whom land was granted in Sidney. (S.T.R. 109) Later on the same year John Sweet bought one parcel of Thomas Bostwick. It is not clear who the owner of this estate was for the members of the Court held on December 27 (the 4th of the 10 month) 1836 ordered the wages of "John Sweet to Thomas Bostwick, p. his Attorney etc." (Q.C.R. of Ex C.P.)

On April 10, 1837 John Sweet subscribed for two of the medical books, but had not paid it on May 15, 1837. The date on the book of "Bill of 2 Med. Books" to Sweet of the date of "the Bill of 3 Med. 1837" to Post of "Med of 2 Books rec'd" (S.T.R. 99)).

The reason that John Sweet had not paid his subscription was perhaps due to failing health for it seems probable that he died between May 15 and June 6, 1837.

The reason for believing that John Sweet died before June 6, 1837 is that the John Sweet who was found on June 6, 1837, had his farm committed "to him" on September 6, 1836, and it does not seem probable that a farm should have been committed to a dead man, and John Sweet's wife many is called Widdo Sweet on December, 1837.
(S.T.R. 104) The fact that the John Sweet, who was found, was not called "Mr" Sweet seems to indicate that his father was dead

Land was granted to John Sweet in the early 1800's from Pendleton, mentioned in the survey of 1837, but is probably not the same. The name appears on the list of unpaid grantees, which was compiled about 1840 by a special committee

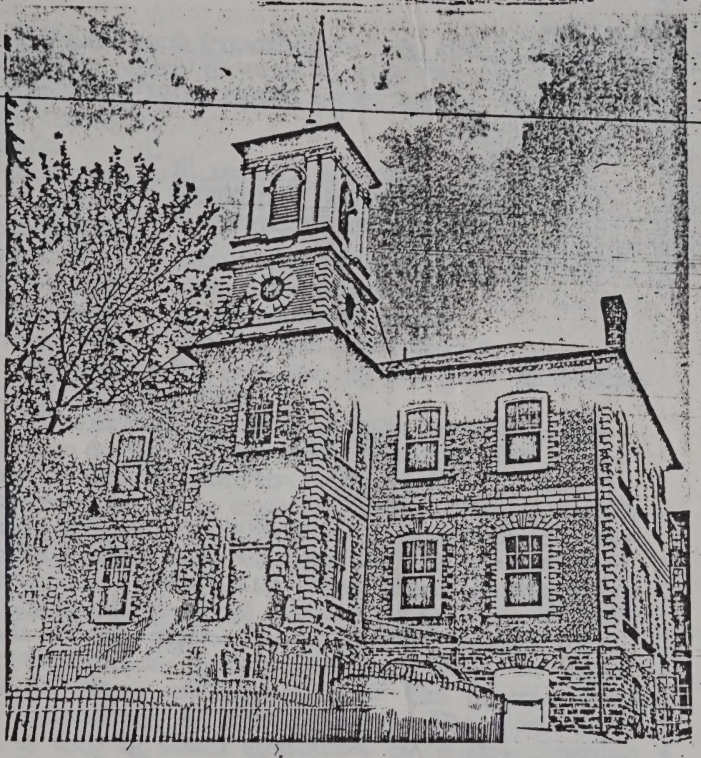
PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

RHODE ISLAND — THE NEW WORLD'S FIRST FREE REPUBLIC



Two months before the thirteen colonies declared their independence from Great Britain, the members of the General Assembly of the Colony of Rhode Island declared their colony independent from the mother country. This bold and brave historic action occurred on May 4, 1776, and created the first free republic in the New World.

The Rhode Island Declaration of Independence terminated a long series of incidents between Rhode Islanders and the crown. This was evident from people who lived in a colony which the persecuted Roger Williams had established in which full religious and civil liberty was guaranted. The colony's declaration was the climax of a series of acts against the mother country—acts of defiance! Rhode Islanders were not subjected to the authority of royal governors and the colony was possibly the only one to enjoy a constitutional form of government in British America.

While stirring speeches were being made by irate patriots in other colonies, Rhode Islanders, for several years before Lexington and Concord, had carried on a "war" with the British—and the colonists drew the first bloodshed. On July 9, 1764, sailors from the H.M.S. Squirrel and Newporters fought with each other and cutlasses, clubs and stones were swung with bruising effects. Before the day ended, the Newporters had seized Fort George and succeeded in firing a cannon shot which struck the British warship. Not many years later, in 1769, the longboats of the sloop of war Liberty were burned by Newporters. Providence citizens destroyed British tea before the Revolution, and in 1772 the Gaspee, a British revenue vessel stationed in Rhode Island, was burned to the water's edge.

To commemorate the 183rd anniversary of Rhode Island's Declaration of Independence, a state-wide committee designated the period May 2 to 10, 1959, as Rhode Island Heritage Week—the fourth annual observance.

Special ceremonies were held, including a patriotic celebration at the General Nathanael Greene Homstead in Anthony. This house is affectionately known as the "Mount Vernon of the North," as Greene was Washington's second in command, and his most trusted general.

Several historic houses and buildings were opened, including the Old State House, Providence, where the Rhode Island Declaration of Independence was signed. The beautiful Old Colony House in Newport, where Washington and the Count de Rochambeau of France conferred, were opened. In East Greenwich, the General James Mitchell Varnum House and the Armory of the Independent Company of Kentish Guards received visitors. In Wickford area, visitors were welcomed at "Smith's Castle at Cocumcussoc," only house standing in which Roger Williams resided, and at the Old Narragansett Church. Nearby is the birthplace of Gilbert Stuart, foremost painter of portraits of George Washington. The Old Slater Mill in Pawtucket, where American industrial know-how was established in 1790, was opened as well as historic shrines in Bristol, Coventry, Providence, Newport, Westerly, South Kingstown, and other towns.

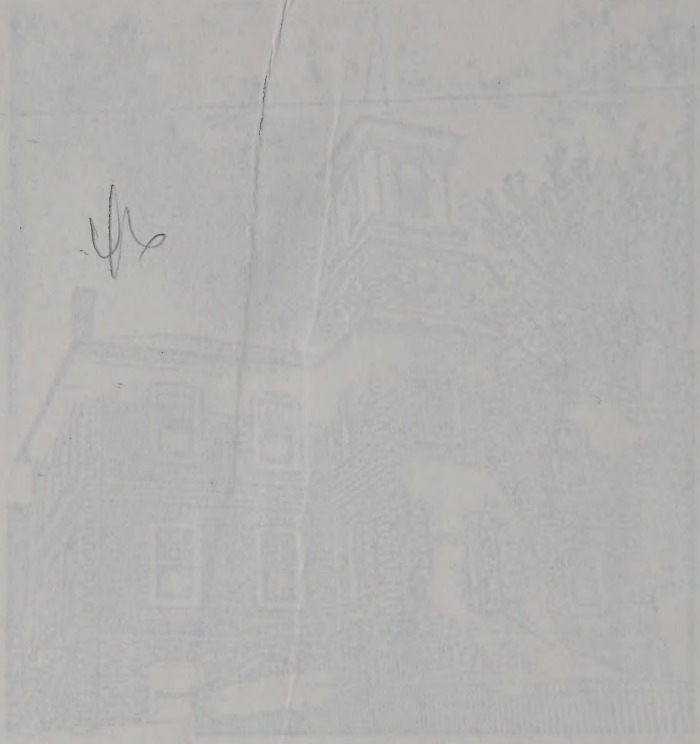
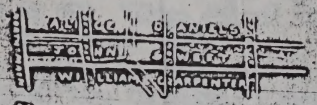
RHODE ISLAND INDEPENDENCE CHAPTER, PROVIDENCE, R. I.
Organized May 4, (R. I. Independence Day), 1910



The first that was granted to have abutted on the west upon what is now North Main Street, and included the land upon which the "old State House" stands.

On November 6, 1666, Samuel Smith bought all rights of land in Providence "as my father



The Smith Record, was one of the first purchasers (Bowen, "Founders, 1913)

The earliest mention of John Smith's wife Mary is in the "Agreement" when the second year of the Plantation (1637) of Providence. The entry is "It is agreed that ... Mary Smith shall pay in consideration of ground by pre- sent granted unto them [to be laid out] 20 acres." (P.R.I.R., I, 3). Two days already refer to the land granted previously to John Smith and who upon his decease passed into the possession of his widow. There is noth- ing to show whether or not the Smiths moved to Providence in 1637, but from the fact that in a list of land grantees at Salem, dated 6 December 1637 the name "Goodie Smith" appears, it would seem as though the family remained another winter at Salem. In the list "Goodie Smith" is described as having a family of 4 and of having received 3 acres (S.T.R., 1911) Of the "Freemen List of Salem" as well as of Providence, proprietors had rights to more land as new divisions were made than had moved away, in which case after they had moved away, in which case Mrs. Smith might have moved to Providence in the spring or summer of 1637, and yet have been granted land in Salem in 1638.

Mary Smith probably moved to Providence with her family in 1637, and lived on the lot now occupied by the "old State House".

sued against Allardice and Read for money due Mary Sweet. (Rec R 17) Mary Sweet was married to Cockrell Holloman before July 1, 1659, when Hugh Peters refers to her as "Mary Holloman". She adopted the baptist teachings of Holloman, and was doubtless present when he baptized Roger Williams, and was probably one of those baptized by Williams on this occasion, and so was one of the original members of the First Baptist Church of Providence.

In the Bible dated Salem July 1 1659, Hugh Peters names her as one "of such persons as have had the great mercies poured upon them in this our church, with the seven things".
... that Roger Williams, Mary Holloman and such others should repair to have the church dismissed, and all the churches in the Bay to fall into churches, and (except two) are all ordained. (Hutch. I, 131)

When the Sweet Holloman marriage in two months was probably contracted. We do not know whether they then resided in the Sweet house or in the Holloman house which stood at the present (1919) north of the street car tunnel near the corner of North Main and Waterman streets. This Holloman house was left will to Hugh Bewitt, who sold it to the town and it became the first Town House".
According to the tax list of 1650 the Sweet house was one of the two houses in town, the other house and the mill having been in addition made by Masters.

The Holloman would from Providence to Portsmouth, R.I. before March, 1640. (R.I.R. 1)
The Sweet house in Providence was used to

The Holmans moved to Warwick before [illegible] The Swan boy, perhaps not getting on well with his step father, may have returned to Rhode Island, where we find them in June 24, 1648. It is possible however that they were only there temporarily, for a couple of weeks earlier, on June 5, 1648 they were admitted inhabitants of Warwick. Holman represented Warwick in the General Assembly, served on Town Councils, and took an active part in the civic affairs of the town and colony. He died Sept. 17, 1659.

Holman's daughter by his first wife had married John Warner, who was not on the best of terms with his step-mother-in-law, Mary Holman. It appears from a letter that John Warner wrote in 1650 that John Greenacre and he [illegible] had the Warners, and when they came to Warwick to take part in the commons, came to it with the manage between Greenacre and Warner's step mother Mary Holman, alias Mary Smith, and had a quarrel ensued from the charges that Warner made. Warner then describes the part that he, his step-mother-in-law Holman took in the affair. How in the meanwhile he [illegible] from the Brethren, was made John Greenacre should be complained of a meeting, was, as Holman [illegible] first husband of Catherine [illegible] Court, the one [illegible] to make a breach as she had upon [illegible] and was accomplished [illegible] should get such trades through Providence as I procured she only desired to have self, the other to get opportunity to utter himself in [illegible] [illegible] payment to him upon [illegible] all matters [illegible] John Warner [illegible] lawyers is very apt. The Bench mentioned in in the Warner-Gorton quarrel and mentions Hollman's name with sympathy. The quarrel spread almost all the townspeople taking one side or the other, and eventually split with the Courts. Warner called the town officers rogues and thieves, was deposed and disenfranchised and left Warwick, taking his wife and three children to England.

Ezekiell Holliman died September 11, 1659, at Warwick, intestate, and the Town Council met on September 12 and drew up a will for him.

According to Curtis (Jones Coll. p. 103) on the "1661, Oct. 5 The widow was again questioned whether she would accept marriage, desiring a speedy answer, having already long waited to the spending of some of the estate. She accepted accepting the offer."

The main interest attached to the meeting may have died in the term of [illegible] expired, for in 1660 we find that Mary Holman had an opportunity to work on the farm.

The appearance to "trade" in the Will of John Warren and to "trade" in the "will" of Cartwell Holman would seem to show that Cartwell and Mary Holman carried on trade of some sort, probably trade with [illegible]. This supposition is strengthened by the following:

In the Warwick Town Council order dated Sept. 8, 1663, in regard to the division of the estate of Ezekiel Holliman between John Warren and Rachel Warren, mention is made of "the debt due from Mrs Mary Hollyman." (Warwick Papers 31)

What the debt was is suggested by the following assignment from John Greene and William Todd to John Warner, dated January 11, 1663 (1664?). "Whereas the Councell of the Towne of Warwicke, by an act ... bearing date the 27th of September 1659 did ... impower us amongst other things, to demand & take into our custody twenty bushells of indean corne, & seven pound ten shillings in peage, from the estate of Mrs Mary Hollyman, & to employ & improve the same, together with the rest of the estate, for the best advantage of the said children, which said Corne & ... was duly demanded ... demand of the said Mrs Mary Hollyman who did deny to pay or deliver it to us according ... his

Last

This is the last contemporary reference we have to Mary Sweet-Holman. She must have been about Eighty years old at this time, and probably went to Pembroke and resided with her daughter, Reynold Gorsuch, during the rest of her life. After her death, her remains were very probably brought back to Warwick and interred beside those of her second husband, Ezekiell Holliman, in the old burial lot of John Warner, senior, in the north side of the high way and east of the brook. Upon her decease land of 1666 to John Warner, junior. Also on 19, 1662, Walter Todd deposed that "Mr Ezekiel Hollyman who hereby so done took the house and land and his son Benjamin and then removed to Pawcatuck (Westerly) to the house that was formerly the ... Warner's until the Time of his decease." (Warner Papers 71) Warner Papers 71, a deposition of Owen Watts made April 13, 1667 shows that at that time John Greenly was the owner and Thomas Hazard the tenant dwelling upon the lot that Holliman sold Greenly. This is the lot that Greenly sold to Mrs. Holliman and which she deeded back to him.

JOHN SWEET, son of John and Mary, was born in England probably between 1620 and 1630 and came to New England with his parents. He resided with them in Salem, Massachusetts. It was probably this John Sweet and not his father who was fined Governor Endicott's dogs. This question has been discussed at length [illegible]. The fine is noted to be one pound under date of June 6, 1637, "John Sweet, having presented by the grandjury for killing a swine dog of Colonell Endecotts, & Colonell Endecotts word good, was fined 5£, & to be imprisoned during the pleasure of the Court. (Mass. Ct. Rec. I, 194, pp. 198), and under date of Sept. 6, 1638, "6th 4th mo. John Sweete being fined 5£, & was remitted. (Mass. C. R. I, 234 pp. 245)."

This incident may have hastened the departure of the Sweet from Salem. John Sweet's father died in 1637 and John with his mother and brother and sister removed to Providence. John's mother Mary was soon remarried to her second husband, Richard Hedman. They joined the Baptist church and doubtless brought John up in the Baptist faith. The Hedmans moved to Portsmouth and there to Newport and John Sweet may have resided with them all or part of the time. At Portsmouth Richard Hedman was interested in the mill and John may have served an apprenticeship or at least learned the trade of a miller at this time. At Newport John Sweet doubtless met Elizabeth Hedgeth, this a girl in her teens, whom he finally married. John Sweet and his brother James may not have gotten on very well with their step father Hedman and may have resented their mother's remarriage, probably because of her husband's opposition to Providence, so the Sweet boys may have resided in Providence during their minority, perhaps in Aquidneck.

At any rate John Sweet and his brother James went to Providence on the 20th mo.

1613, and was raised up in giving out a false alarm of an Indian Revolt and causing Trade a recess in the town. On Aug. 28, 1613 Edward Sackson that he was "heard [John Smart] give notice to Will Hawkins to give notice to Thomas Hopkins wife & [illegible] Woodson. James Smart beat the Drum... Will Hawkins with John Smart [illegible] him to speak to Tho Hopkins & [illegible] wife that he intended to shoot off a gun as true to an hour [illegible] he comes..." (Exp. Trans Papers 1911) The evidence taken showed that the alarm was a "just" a practical joke. The study all within of Grandsons did not approve of the idea of human chivalry was held by the young men of the town and the matter was referred to the next Court of Trade. The following item is regard to the case
"Know all men that I Robert Williams am my self in the sum of twenty pounds for the appearance of John Smart" when he is called for by the Court, the next Court of Trade held the 2nd day of [illegible] Robert Williams (Exp. Rec.
[illegible])

From the fact that Robert Williams acted as bondsman for John Smart it might be inferred that John Smart was perhaps of kindred and apprentice or employee of Robert Williams. This was certainly considered reasonable between John Smart and the Williams brothers, Roger and Robert.
On the evening of June 16, 1613 John Smart was again in Grandsons time, this at the house of Roger Williams. On the following day June 17, John Smart appeared before the town Deputies of Grandsons and [illegible]

upon it at the time it was drawn up and dated.

In a list of "Inhabitants received in mark of in order as they came first" the John Sweet name of John Sweet a Inhabitant is followed by that of John Townsend (Deeds H, 100, Type 99). This list does not give the date of his coming, but as John Townsend is mentioned as having obtained an inhabitant on July 3, 1649 (Warwick Deeds H, 99), it could follow that John Sweet was admitted an inhabitant on a later date.

On May 5, 1651 John Sweet was chosen as Commissioner from Warwick to serve that term in the General Assembly of May 1650 (Warwick Rec.
41, 69, Type 99). No record of the session of the General Assembly has been found. It must have been a turbulent and exciting session, as it was during the early days of Gorton's occupation.

On Sept 1, 1651 the Warwick town meeting voted "ordered that John Sweet may have a piece of ground to build on before his door, at the discretion of the surveyors the highways being considered of" (Warwick Rec. 49, 130, Type 99) From this it might appear that John Sweet had not as yet built, and probably was not yet married.
It was on this same day that John Sweet's sister Rosamond Wickham was received to plantation, and the general council between [illegible] and John Warner, which results in the [illegible] Warner.

At the town meeting held at Warwick upon 29,
1652 John Sweet was chosen sergeant (constable)

On December 20, 1662 the Warwick Assembly met at Warwick and Hugh Bewell was arrested on the charge of treason. On Dec. 21 it was ordered that John Sweet being Town Serjeant shall keep in safe custody the body of Hugh Bewell prisoner in the present stay, and that the said Hugh Bewell prisoner is not to depart the house or yard without further order.

John Sweet returned as the Town Serjeant until April 19, 1663 when John Cooke was chosen "to supply the place of a Servant John Sweet being dead." ((W.R. 65, 154, fo. 2) dated April 13, 1663, John Cooke being absent, John Sweet is chosen in his room for the present Assizes (Rd. C.R. 1673) John Cooke was Commissioned from Warwick to the Grand Council. This was the Smith's second term of Commissioner. Minutes of the Council are lost at Warwick. John Sweet was chosen for the Warwick jury May 10, 1664 ((W.R. 11, 110, fo. 127))

John Smith's name appears on the list of Freemen in Warwick in 1665 ((W.R. 11, Doc.))

On June 20, 1665 John Sweet deeded his house [illegible] at Warwick to John Cooke, as follows: "Know all men by these presents that I John Sweet of Warwick in the County of Warwick Glover have sould unto John Cooke of the same Town all that my house scituate

At the Warwick Town meeting held on May 17, 1837 it was voted that John Sweet shall have two acres of meadow for himself and Henry Tammen as compensation when he can find a piece of land exchanged for some piece he has taken in enlarging the road at Oakland Town within the bounds of the Town and the John Sweet Grave and Richard Waredit shall have the first choice. At the Town Meeting June 5, 1837 it was voted that the selectmen be and are directed about repairing certain bridges. The road by John Sweets into Pine Ridge and the Town Farm. The vote was that the person living between the house of John Sweet and those of Thomas Ralph and Warren Greene should attend to the repair of Middle Bridge. This was the bridge over Ruggs Brook. At the Town Meeting held June 1, 1837 John Sweet was chosen Surveyor. ((W.R. 1 99, 166, Type, 1837)) He had been engaged in 1836 (q.v. post) as 1838.

In a deed dated March 1 1837 ((1837/3)) Thomas Ralph and Warren Greene of the second part sold to John Sweet of the first part a piece of land containing 4 acres and 100 rods on the Westerly side of John Sweets land as bounded [illegible] (W.R. 24, 213, Type, 1837). This is the house and orchard which John Sweet had bought of Henry Tammen April 19, 1837.

On April 3, 1838 the town ordered [illegible] John Sweet one Order of Sessions, and on May 19, 1838 ordered [illegible] John Sweet one order of Sessions. (W.R. 1 31 [illegible], Type, 1838). The reason of this vote is that Sweet had on record the highway previous to that he had brought with him an order, or deed [illegible] Sessions.

On June 9, 1838 John Sweet was chosen [illegible] at the Town meeting. (W.R. 1 103, 1838, Type, W) He then held the office [illegible] elected in 1837 q.v.

JOHN SWEET 2

Deacon Daniel

81

John Sweet and his younger brother James are included among the 31 persons who were admitted with the 12 Original purchasers of Warwick previous to June 5, 1648.
He was appointed Sergeant, June 2, 1657 and also June 1, 1658. (also many times between these dates)
Made Freeman of Warwick in 1655 (I say this but am not sure that can't prove it)
Appointed a Commissioner from Newport Oct 16, 1660
In same year he bought (1660) lands at Narragansett (Kingston) and in 1671 he was living at Acquidneset (Wickford). He had a "Grist Mill" and other works on the Potowomut river and was burned out by the Indians during King Philip's War. 1675. etc.
The mill site was near the historic forge of Gen. Nathanael Greene

#15 Elizabeth Wilson, widow, age 45 yrs or thereabouts, "deposed that" her first husband John Sweet, being a Warwick man first built his dwelling house on Potowomut neck and procured leave of the Narragansett Sachems to set down his mill and dam in the Potowormut River. Her husband and self kept possession peaceably of said house & land & mill for several years until forced off by the late Indian War and after the War was over she and her children returned and kept possession of the place.

SAMUEL WILSON #3774

1640 John[2] Sweet was the step-son of Rev. Ezekiel Holleman who ran the the Grist mill in Portsmouth about 1640. John lived with the Holleman family consisting of his mother (Mrs. Mary Holliman) his step-father, his brother James and sister Renewed (until her marriage) and the children of Mr. Holleman's first wife. John and James assisted in the mill together with an apprentice -- George Case -- This is perhaps the reason that John Sweet later became a miller at Warwick and Potowomut Potowomut.

married (about 1683)

(?) Mrs. Eleanor (——) Carpenter of Narragansett. This is not well documented. Eleanor as her first name, is undoubtedly correct but the name "Carpenter" as given by an unknown genealogist, may well be questioned. It could easily be a confusion with the wife of Daniel[3] of Philip - Ethelannah Carpenter who, with her husband, are in the vital records of Glocester, Prov. Co. R.I. These two Daniels are confused by many students of the Sweet family. It is easily understood why as the mills of both Daniel[3] and Philip[3] are to be found in Apponaug - Philip[3] names his sons Daniel[4] and Jeremiah[4] (also Philip or James) and Daniel[3] names sons Daniel[4] + Jeremiah[4] (also son John). See vol. 2. Bk. 2 - Philip[3] Cont.

Daniel Sweet, born at Potowomut, Warwick, R.I. 1657 (Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of R.I.) Made will Nov. 10, 1727, died before Apr. 17, 1728, when inventory was taken of his property. Will in Court House at Apponaug. Died at North Kingston. Miller by occupation.

Daniel Sweet's father had a grist mill on the Potowomut river, and here Daniel learned the business and undoubtly followed same the rest of life. He is called a miller in the birth record's of his children. He is listed as an inhabitant of Narragansett* as early as July 29, 1679, when his name appears among a group of 43 men whose houses in Narragansett had been destroyed by the Indians in King Philip's War, 1675-77. (Pioneers of Narragansett, Gardener, in Narragansett Hist. Reg. 2:114).

Narragansett, often called in the early records as the Narragansett Country or the Narragansett Lands, was disputed territory for many years between Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. The name applied to the southern part of present R.I., and included Kingston, which was soon divided into N[illegible] and south Kingston. Narragansett approximated what became Kings County, changed during the Revolutionary War to Washington County, now popularly called South County, -a section especially rich in historical interest during the colonial era.

There were at least 2 if not more Johns in North Kingstown at this period.

John Sweet, born in that part of Warwick, R.I., known as Potowomut*, July 14, 1706 (VR); died at North Kingston, R.I., about 1744?, when will was probated. (North Kingston Probate records, 8:65.)

* Potowomut is and was a sort of No Man's land. Although politically a part of Warwick, it is separated from the larger portion of that town (now City) by the town of East Greenwich and two miles of water known as East Greenwich Bay. Potowomut is contiguous with East Greenwich and North Kingston, being sometimes called the Greene as far as tidal flow, and from thereto source Hunts river. Thus, Potowomut is more closely connected by nature and socially and economically with either East Greenwich or North Kingston than with Warwick, and since East Greenwich was originally included in Warwick, it was only natural for the early settlers, like the Sweets, ever alert for new land, to move over to the open countryside to the south, that is north Kingston.

(It is told that in the early days when East Greenwich was set off from Warwick, the grant was from the shore line at high water extending inland. In recent times, certain scallop fishermen from old Warwick or Potowomut have been known to wade along the East Greenwich shore at low tide and take scallops out-of-season. If an East-Greenwich policeman tries to stop the poachers, they get historical, telling the officer they are in Warwick, go look it up, go somewhere else, he has no authority-all to the accompaniment of merry hoots and thumbing of noses. Goddard Park, a state Reservation visited annually by many thousands from the cities, is in Potowomut. A number of "Sweet" families still live on farms in the vicinity.

John Sweet died in early life, which may be one reason he has not been identified previously. His birthdate is given in the Sweet Ms. but after same it states: "no further record." He lived in North Kingston. Shortly before death, he sold land there to Jabez Green, blacksmith. Dated Apr. 7, 1742, this deed is very important as it establishes that John Sweet was the son of Daniel. It mentions John Sweet's brother Jeremiah and the only Sweet family in the vicinity at this period, with brothers named John and Jeremiah, is that of Daniel. (No. Kingston Deeds, 9:143). No other deeds of record appear.

John Sweet's will was probated at North Kingston in or about 1744. The exact date is missing. It mentions sons John and Richard, wife Lydia, and daughters, Sarah, Ann, Priscilla, Lydia, and Elizabeth. (No. Kingston Probate record, 8:65.)

Children of John and Lydia Sweet, born at North Kingston (Wills):

1. Thomas, mentioned in his uncle Jeremiah's will made July 2, 1731. (Brother John Sweet's son Thomas shall have all my land.)

Fifth son of John [2] and Elizabeth Jeffrey born (ca 1662) at Warwick R.I.

died 1744 at East Greenwich R.I.

marr - (ca. 1683) at Newport R.I.

Left as will Priscilla Carpenter

Elder (or Pastor) of the Stoney Laine - 6th Principal Baptist Church of North Kingston R.I. from 1710 to 1740 -

His church is still a "show place" -

For further information see Vol - I, Bk. 3 = Richard - Bk 4 Benj. + Bk 5 Jeremiah "Descendants of Elder Richard Lovett" and Vol II, Gen.

C.N. This Richard has been the cause of much confusion among various genealogists - Many records of other Richards have been assigned to him with out careful research - also been considered as two different men.

The town records of Westerly, the Landd. Endens. of East Greenwich and North Kingston and Richard's will - prove that he did not marry Mehitable Larkin and that he was "Elder Richard" of North Kingston as well as of East Greenwich - S.W.

Benjamin [3]

(brothers of Richard [3] etc) of the "Narragansett Country"

(Warwick - North Kingstown)

Very little known of him but the following reference undoubtedly refers to him:

From New Eng. Historical and Genealogical Register vol. 87 p. 267

Early Knights of R. I. by Moriarty

"On Oct. 24, 1687, Capt. James Fitch leased his farm at Peagscomsuck. (After 1699 this place was Plainfield Conn. and after 1703, Canterbury Conn.) for 20 years to James Sweet, Henry Sweet, #19 #18 Benjamin Sweet #21 + Joh. Knight all living in the Narragansett country. —

A further note says James Sweet was sued for the rent."

Compiler's note - These Sweets were probably three sons of John [2] and Elizabeth. We know that neither James #18 nor Henry of East Greenwich ever lived in what is now Conn. but we know nothing about Benjamin, so perhaps he was the one, with John Knight who took up this land. HSW.

(this William W. could possibly be Wm son of James[3] of Portsmouth)

(a deed proves Wm m. Thankful to be son of Richard[3] the Deed is in book 8, Richard[3])

Note This William Sweet has been thought by many to be the William who married Thankful Hamilton and had a large family. All are recorded in the East Greenwich town records - but as that man (no) had his first child in 1709 and the last in 1726, it seems most unlikely that he should be the above William who would have been ca. 44 years old at the time of his marriage - of course not impossible but not probable. William[4] of Richard[3] is now accepted and proved by the East Greenwich deeds by the best authorities, to be the one who married "Thankful."

Compilers Note:- A diagram of the land of John Sweet - m. Catherine and of his sons lots - made as shown in the preceding deeds makes it very apparent that he is not the John Sweet who was the son of the grandson of Richard 3 Sweet - A diagram of the land of Richard's son John with the surrounding lots shows an entirely different locality - It may not have been very far away but was evidently farther to the north as this plot borders on the line between North Kingston + East Greenwich being adjacent to Richard's own home farm in East Greenwich. Elnathan Sweet's descendants claim that he was the first settler. He located very early in the southern part of the town.

James Sweet was also an early settler.

Family Sketches from Landmarks etc.

p. 155 - Sweet, Hon. Rufus, born in Stephentown, Jan. 22, 1833, is the son of Rufus and Mary (Shaw) Sweet, both natives of Stephentown. The grandfather, Elnathan Sweet, came from Connecticutt to Stephentown on horseback in pioneer days. He married Miss Rogers, a daughter of one of the early settlers of Stephentown. The Sweet family are of English and Scotch descent. The parents of Mary Shaw were Anthony and Dianah (Smith) Shaw, who were early settlers in Stephentown, coming from Rhode Island. The father of Rufus during his early life was engaged in various occupations but in his later years followed farming. He was justice and town clerk and collector twenty-one years in succession. He died in April 1860. Mrs. Sweet died August 27, 1856. Rufus was educated in the common and select schools of Stephentown and, when quite young took charge of the home farm on which he has always resided. He owns the homestead of 100 acres to which he has added 125 acres. In 1857 Mr. Sweet married Eunice M., daughter of Malankin and Eliza C. (Smith) Bentley of Hancock, Mass. To Mr. and Mrs. Sweet have been born three children: George B. farmer of Hancock, Mass.; Mary E., Carrie, a teacher in Virginia. Mr. Sweet has been ten years supervisor in Stephentown, railroad commissioner several years, and member of assembly from 1882 to 1883. June 14, 1893, he was appointed superintendent of the poor of the county and in the following fall was elected to the same office by a majority of 7,121. He is a member of Amity Lodge, F. & A. M., also of the I.O.O.F.

City of Troy and Its Vicinity - by A. J. Weise. Pub. by Edward Green, Troy - 1886.

p. 90 - Sweet & Clark Manufacturing Company has its currycomb works on the north side of Pine Woods Ave., immediately east of the intersection of Pine Woods and Pawling Aves. The senior members of the firm, Miles Sweet, in 1873 established a currycomb manfacturgy on the Hollow Road, now Spring Ave. In January 1874, he and William Harrison formed the firm of Sweet & Harrison. On its dissolution in December, that year, Jay Willard Clark became associated with him in the business; the firm taking the name of Sweet & Clark. On 5 July 1875 the works were located on the present site. The Sweet & Clark Manufacturing Company was formed in July 1882. Besides making all kinds of curry-combs, the company manufactures curry and horse cards, boring machines, malleable iron Cooley whip-racks, crown whip-racks, patent door fasteners, stove lifters, farden trowels, butter and lard knives and hardware specialties. Miles Sweet, since 1845, has been engaged in the manufacture of curry-combs. His long experience has enabled the company to secure an extensive sale for its goods.

Rev. Amos[6] of Beekman, N.Y.

(David[5], John[4], Henry[3], John[2], John[1])

(6th ch.) son of David[5] and Mercy (——) Sweet born, Dec. 26, 1755 at East Greenwich, R.I.

Revolutionary records - see - over → Ams's V.R. of E.G. vol. 1, p.

died, - There is no record of his death in Dutchess County or of any of his children. The family may have moved to Dryden, N.Y. in the early 1800's. He was willed a farm in Dutch. Co. by his father in 1801 - "To Amos who shall care for his mother" -

(probate 1805) 7

The Amos who is buried in Dryden Spa; - grave marked by D.A.R., may be this Amos (or his son Amos ?). The father may could not have settled there in 1797 as records indicate (see Census 1800 Beekman) but his sons, perhaps Amos[7] (Samuel[7] etc) undoubtedly took up the land in the "Military Tract" on his right, by purchase, he, himself and wife, moving there later.

See In will - Amos shall care for his mother", married - name unknown - b- ca. 1755

She is included in census of 1790 + in 1800 (under 45)

Compilers note: As he had 4 sons over 10 (Census 1790) there seems to be an error here - the 4 being mixed - It should read 2 under 10 - (b. 1790-1800)

Therefore He had a wife; 4 sons & 3 daus.

while Nathaniel had none b. before 1790

a friend of Eloise Morgan gave the records below to Barbara Sweet the librarian at Syracuse N.Y. Library (apparently a Bible or family record of some kind - + as the chn. listed fit exactly with the 1790 to 1810 Dutchess Co. census records - this must be the Samuel who signed the pledge in 1776 - but note there is no son named Samuel T.H.H.)

TABLED MAY HOLD FOR

" Samuel Sweet b. Jan. 1746 R.I. m. Sarah Shear dau. of an early Dutchess Co. settler + had the following children all born Dutchess Co. ~~My~~

Samuel above would fit nicely the one d. 1842 in Beekman if in 97th yr. (not age 97?) but N. Reenes found a Samuel Sweet d. Nov. 1835 age 86 bur. Rawlins Dutchess Co. N.Y. (b. ca 1749/50 if d. in 97th yr. or is date of d. age wrong? only 1 Sam'l here in census records!)

so who is he? - was he the Samuel who was granted Land by Garret Van Sante on 12-20-1766 (Albany Co. N.Y. Deed 8k 7 p. 452) the one b. Jan. 1746 would be almost 21 by this date? heirs? or?

Dutchess Co. Records - (Court) #10257 The people against Samuel Sweet Oct. 1781 Writ by Mary Nichols states that "Samuel Sweet former of Beekmon presinct on Sept. 24 did beat, wound, ill treat and otherwise do other wrongs to her - doing her great damage and against the peace of the people of N.Y. and their dignity. (Nothing to show how the case come out N.R. Said)

Then Deed Bk. 22 p. 357 Indenture 4-29-1811 bet. Samuel Sweet + wife Sarah of Beekmon of 1st part and Joseph Draper of Dover of 2nd part for #3,875. paid by 2nd party for land in Beekmon, being part of #9 and bounded S.E. corner on Elnathon Sweets land to walnut tree on Jeremiah Enright's land - - - on Taber Bentley's orchard - - - to Nicholas Baker's + 54 links to Jonathon Sweets land containing 155½ a. more or less - Samuel Sweet signed his name + Sarah her mark - wit. Lewis Draper + Thos. Bentley.

Sarah Sweet examined privately by Wm. Draper one of the Judges of Court of Common Pleas + all recorded 5-15-1811. Books the 1800 + 1810 censuses shows Samuel Sweet living next door to Taber Bentley. BVH. gives him as m. 1760 Elizabeth Sweet dau of Samuel Sweet early to Dutchess Co. N.Y. (but his Census records indicate a mor. date nearer to 1770 - so she is more likely a sister of this Samuel Sweet T.H.H.)

Hello again-

It's been a long time- n'est-ce pas?- But every once in a while I get to wondering how youffre getting along with your Sweets. Keep seeing things that might interest you- and promise myself Iall send them along. How hard it is to keep promises- even to onesself- with some project pressing all the time for prior consideration!

However- here goes for a new beginning. Amm enclosing two of my latest Sweet acquisitions. Mr. Porter Matteson- Box. 1681- Columbus, Ohio- who is compiling a prodigious volume of Matteson data- sent me this outline. He can probably answer questions on these lines- and surely would appreciate comparing with your data. The second Sweet query is from the Hartford Times- June 19, 1948. Correspondant probably has more information if you care to contact him or her. It was signed WFL- somehow I thought it should read FLW - and was numbered A-8958.

Recently had the loan of the records of the Baptist Church at Lebanon, Madison Co.,NY. and found the following Sweets mentioned as members:

Amos Sweet- received by letter from the Burlington Church Sept. 2, 1810? (this puzzles me a bit as the church was not formed until 1816- but possibly he asked for his letter from Burlington when he moved to Lebanon and it was dated as of that date- and he had no chance to join another church until the church was formed at Lebanon. He is probably of the same family as John Sweet of neighboring Smyrna. His name appears on the Lebanon Church roster from 1816 until his death- April 9, 1826. * See over--- Dorcas Sweet- was on membership list in 1816. Was baptised April 29, 1827- and excluded for breach of covenant July 7, 1838.

Mary Ann Sweet- on membership list started in 1816 but this does not mean she joined then as the list was added to for many years before a revised list was started. She was baptised by immersion Dec. 24, 1826- which is probably when she joined the church

Melissa Sweet- Related her Christian experiences March 18, 1837 and was received into the church when baptised April 14,1836. In 1838 she asked to be dropped from the church rolls as "she knew nothing about religion" - so in July of that year she was excluded.

* I am inclined to believe the date for Amos's letter should read Sept. 2, 1819 rather than 1810. Note Sarah got her letter in Aug. 1819 just about a week before he got his most likely. Must be a typographical error on part of the transcriber of the record. Would suspect that they were getting to be elderly and were coming to Lebanon to live with a son. These records indicate that these Sweet families had first settled in the Burlington-New Berlin area probably coming in from Otsego co.

Sarah Sweet- Was received by letter from Burlington Aug. 27, 1819. May be wife of Amos. She is also on list commenced in 1816- as was Amos- but in her case it is obvious she was not a member until 1819. She asked for a letter of dismission Aug. 29, 1830 so she could join the church at New Berlin - where she evidently intended to remove. This last fact seems to indicate even more strongly that she was Amos's wife- and that after his death she was returning to live with relatives at New Berlin, which is a little south east of Burlington.

Susan Sweet- was baptised and received into the church March 23,1844 but on July 11, 1846 " the hand of fellowship was withdrawn" (Probably she was one of those who went to a party where there was dancing at Smyrna- at least several others were excommunicated at this time for so doing) She was restored to membership July 8, 1854.

Have you any idea who these Sweets were?

Do drop me a line and tell me what youre up to. Have wondered how your son is getting along with his stamps and books.

Me?- I'm struggling with planting gardens- papering and painting adding a couple of wash dresses via the sewing machine to my poor wardrobe. Think I ought to be thinking seriously of going to work for a little pay. My young son is back from Korea and ready to enter college this year. Don't know yet where he's headed- but he's beginning to suspect the GI educational fund isn't going to cover too much of the expense. Perhaps his mother ought to help him out a bit.

Well lady- I've got to run along.

Best of regards-

I wouldn't want to say for sure that T.S.W. goofed here, before selling her Vol II James's book - but from everything I've found on the Nehemiah who m. Mary Whitmore - he belongs to the Attleboro, Mass. family son of John + Sarah (Keeffe) (Keeffe) & g. son of Henry + Eliz. (Walker) - V.R. of Attleboro shows him b. 4-26-1790 and the records there don't show him again - so he died? or moved away - and certainly fits the Nehemiah who shows up in Prov. R.I. on the military lists (was Lt. in 1st Co. of Prov. Militia) and in the census records there from 1774 to 1840 and d. there 9-29-1819 in 72nd year. Wife Mary Whitmore (m. 2-20-1765 Prov. R.I. as then by 1765) d. 11-28-1807 in 66th year. (She apparently not (1840 census) Mary ____ who was 80 on the 1840 pensioners census here) The census records show she had 11 chn. b. by 1784 (if so had m. by 1761 a 1st wife or the 2 extra males over 16 + one female over 16 with him in 1774 were bros. + sisters of himself or his wife or? this other female was still with them in 1782 census age 22-50) or 9 chn. b. by 1783 - 3 boys + 6 girls or 8 chn. 2 boys + 6 girls. This Nehemiah Sweet had a twin bro. Noah + a bro. Nathaniel b. 8-6-1756 (a Rev. soldier they say) neither of whom appear in the 1790 census of Mass. - so they + wife of one of them could be the other people over 16 with Nehemiah in 1774. error correct T. Milt.

1. Stephen Sweet and wife Dorcas Casey from R. I.
2. Stephen Sweet b. Dover in 1780
3. George Sweet b. Dover in 1821

Perhaps this is wrong. I know you have done an infinite amount of work on the family. I simply bring it up because the Sweets are incredibly complicated and it looks to me as if no one could figure out all the involvements if he lived to be 150. am about to equal T. Milt

Martin L. Sweet

Banker, and farm-stock raiser, was born at Paris, Oneida Co., N.Y., February 21, 1819. His parents were New Englanders. He received a common school education and worked in his father's flour mill until he had saved $900.00. On the death of his father, he made a trip, when he was fourteen years old, to Chicago, but finding no enticing opening for investment, he returned to his work in the mill until his twentieth year, after which he was engaged elsewhere in New York and Ohio for three years. In 1842 he came to Michigan and was employed in charge of mills successively at Ann Arbor, Dexter, and Delhi, building a mill in the latter place for himself. In 1846 he came to Grand Rapids, and, in partnership with John L. Clements purchased the Old Mill as it was called, though it was then but ten years old. In July of that year he removed his family here, where he has since resided, and been widely known as a prominent and enterprising citizen. In 1853 he built the Grand Rapids City Mills which burned twenty years later. He was the leading dealer in the grain business of this valley for many years. In 1859 he leased the first grain elevator here, at the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad Station, and has kept it in operation since. He sold out of the milling business in 1868 and in 1868 built the hotel which bears his name, at the corner of Canal and Pearl Streets.. It was completed and the hotel opened in 1869, the cost being about $150,000. Some three years later he raised the entire structure four feet and upward to better meet the needs of a new street grade, at an additional expense of about $40,000. In Feb. 1872 fire partially destroyed this hotel but Mr. Sweet promptly rebuilt it and, much improved, it was reopened in the following May..In Dec. 1861, on the suspension of the banking house of Daniel Ball & Co., Mr. Sweet purchased that establishment and engaged in banking, with H. J. Hollister and his own eldest son as assistants. the latter then a youth of fourteen years. Three years later he merged this bank in the First National Bank, of which he became

A stockholder to the extent of half its capital, and was its first President. In 1872 he build sawmills at Ludington, Mich., of a capacity to turn out nearly 15,000,000 feet of lumber annually. He has large interests in pine land in Mason and other counties north and west of Grand Rapids. He is also the owner of several farms near the city, where he has become a successful cultivator, dairyman, and breeder of dairy stock. As an importer, especially of Holstein- Fresian cattle, he has of late done an excellent work in the improvement of farm stock, and has taken great interest in that department of Agricultural exhibitions and fairs. July 24, 1844, Mr Sweet married Desdemona S., daughter of Phineas C. Higgens, of Baldwinsville, N.Y. They have a daughter and two sons. (From page 675 of Albert Baxter's History of Grand Rapids, Mich., 1890)

(From Michigan Pioneer Collection 18-220) Desdemona S. Higgens Sweet was born Fabius, Cayuga Co., N.Y., and died Dec. 6, 1890 age 74.

(From the records of Sylvanus H. Sweet)[3] perhaps the unknown child of Benoni and Elizabeth Manchester whose birth date only is given in the Vital Records-very doubtful - maybe date of Elizabeth.

born, - October - 1715 at North Kingston R.I.

(date - no name, in V.R. of N.K.)

Caleb[4] was a physician who settled in the Mohawk Valley - in Town of Caughnawaga - (no doubt as his son Dr. Caleb was in the census that - 179 and in military records also, in 1786 -) (Sylvanus Sweet record)

Caleb[4] perhaps came from or near R.I. to N.Y. during or shortly after the Revolution - It is thought he came from Stockbridge where his grandsons are later recorded - but perhaps he came direct from R.I. (Like your theory)

Additional notes on Rensselaerville Sweets from "Old Rensselaerville."
by Mary T. Torrance

Elder's Line (Carter's)

p. 42 Silas Sweet came from West Stockbridge, Mass. in 1791, and settled one mile east of the village. (Lot 230 for both in 1788) Elder and Elijah etc.

p. 46. In 1788 Hans Winegar came from West Stockbridge and leased village lot No. 249 and built a log house where the present hotel stands.

p. 48. Jonathan Jenkins (son of Samuel) bought and built upon the Hans Winegar farm in the lower part of village.

p. 42.

Apollos Sweet is said to have been in the town as early as 1785. He subsequently settled 2 miles east of the village, on lot 212 etc (later a Sweet lot) notes — We have a clue here to the location of Silas Sweet. Lots 249 (1), 230 (2) & 212 (3) are set corner to corner from the village reading (south) east — lot 212 is 2 miles east of the village (Mores lot) — lot 249 is the village and Silas settled one mile east of the village therefore Silas must have been on or very near Lot 251 = #230, north of the original Sweet lot which was kept in the family with additions & subtractions of adjoining lots from 1785 to 1893 or perhaps until the present time.

Elder — much later. — 1825 on map of the city — on a lot called No. 25 — which seems to be old lot 230 and part of the lot (old lot) 229 as far as the creek (Jericho Creek) marked "Heirs of Solomon Winegar and John Sweet" with the adjoining lot reaching to the westerly line marked "No. 26 — John Sweet's 2 acre piece" — How did John get this land? and why joint ownership with the "Heirs" unless his wife was an heir? — conclusion — John Sweet married Mary Winegar dau. of Solomon Winegar
Sister of Hans Winegar

History of Cortland Co. - by Smith, Syracuse 1885 -

Eli Sweet, Dr. of Virgil, N.Y.
P. 302 (in an advertisement) Nov. 1815, "near Sweet's Tavern, Port Watson"

Bf:340 - A tavern was kept for a time before the last war in the large wooden structure known as "Bunker Hill", for a short time. The building was erected in the year 1804 by James Knapp. It served the double purpose, so it is said, of creating a great deal of astonishment because of its size and magnificance, and of ruining the builder. It now makes a convenient wagon shop (1885) and is owned by J. C. Seamons. (acording to Mrs. Bays of Virgil (1946) Dr. Eli Sweet lived in this building).

Eber Sweet Jr. of Virgil, N.Y.

Bf:344 - Following is a list of the supervisors and town clerks of Virgil from the first organization to the present time. The supervisors name is given first in each instance:
1864. Roswell Price Eber Sweet

GRANDFATHER BECAME A DENTIST.

A True Anecdote

A. PORTER S. SWEET, D.D.S.
Rochester, N. Y.

IN OUR ready acceptance of things as they are today it is sometimes well to examine the past in order to determine what progress has been made. A hundred years, for instance, can disclose a great difference in the manner in which a young man becomes a dentist. The contrast is revealing. Now it takes years of study and preparation. A century ago it might require only an accident, a coincidence, or a desire to make a better living.

In 1850 grandfather was a gunsmith in the village of Virgil, N. Y. His father, a pioneer in the community, was the local cobbler. Instead of following his father's trade, the son had turned to other outlets for his mechanical skill for he loved to make things that were more artistic and complicated. Guns were not the only product of his shop, however, for he made silver spoons, engraved coffin plates, did some very fine goldsmithing, and probably, when necessary, some tin-smithing as well. Still in the family is a man's gold ring topped by two clasped hands. When the hands are pulled apart the single ring separates into a chain of six rings thus providing a novelty that is quite a puzzle to reassemble. Of course, it was not too uncommon in those days to find these fine mechanics located in the smaller communities.

But it certainly was a coincidence that in the same village there was a physician with an understanding of the importance of oral health that was far ahead of his time. His own teeth were in such bad condition that he realized they were injuring his health. Since horse-and-buggy travel to Binghamton was slow and difficult, one day he called on grandfather and asked:

"Eli, if I drive down to Binghamton to have my teeth out and bring back porcelain teeth and get you a book on dentistry, do you think you could make me some false teeth?"

Grandfather agreed to try and so the trip was made. In all probability the book obtained was The Principles and Practice of Oral Surgery by Chapin A. Harris for by 1850 this exceptional text was in the fourth of its 13 editions. Together the patient and would-be dentist examined the illustrations and waited until the gums had healed enough to look like the pictures. Then grandfather made impression trays and, after obtaining the best beeswax he could find locally, took the two impressions. Following instructions in the book he rolled out two 20 dollar gold pieces, furnished by the physician, to obtain gold of the correct gauge. Then he made dies and counter-dies and swaged out the denture bases. Next, calling on all his skill as a goldsmith, he backed up the porcelain teeth with gold, set them up according to instructions on a home-made articulator, and soldered them in position. Finally, more solder was flowed on the palatal and lingual surfaces to smooth out the rough spots that would irritate the tongue, the dentures were polished, and the workman sent his son for the physician. This lad of ten, who lived to be 95, told me the details of the visit.

The physician accepted the teeth, complimented grandfather on their outward appearance, put them in and, as Uncle expressed it, "chomped them together."

"How do they feel, Doc?"

"Good. How much do I owe you, Eli?"

"I'll leave it up to you."

"I thought you would. Here's your pay", and he placed a small bag on the workbench. After he had gone, the father emptied the bag in front of the boy—100 dollars in gold coins. A wonderful thought came to the boy's mind: "Gee! Now dad will never have to work again."

A different thought came to the father. This was easier work than making guns and even more interesting. He still had the book—so he hung up his shingle. A little later he received petitions from three larger towns each asking him to move to their vicinity and practice his profession. Like a small boy choosing the largest apple, he moved to Whitney's Point, N. Y., the petition from which contained the most names.

This self-taught dentist practiced for over 50 years. He was the inventor of several dental appliances that, in their time, were definite contributions to his profession.

So grandfather became a dentist. Today, it takes longer and is much more difficult. But it is doubtful if any man ever loved his profession more or practiced better dentistry according to his time.

Amos Lewis Sweet

UTICA DA

Death Takes Dr. Sweet, 80; Rites Today

Dr. Louis M. Sweet, 80, professor emeritus of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, and interim pastor in 1943 at First Presbyterian Church, Utica, died Tuesday in St. Joseph's Hospital, Carbondale, Pa. after a long illness.

Before serving as interim pastor, Doctor Sweet often preached in First Church here and served that church as supply pastor one Summer. He also was a guest preacher in this area, while his son, the Rev. Malcolm S. Sweet, was pastor of the New Hartford Presbyterian Church.

Doctor Sweet was born Oct. 10, 1869 in Southold, a son of Dr. Amos Lewis and Sarah Benedict Sweet. He was graduated from Hobart College in 1892, received his AM degree in 1895. He was a graduate of Theological Seminary in 1895 and was granted a PhD degree from New York University in 1918.

After his ordination in 1895 he served pastorates in Buffalo, Union Springs, Warsaw and Canandaigua. He became professor of Christian Theology and Apologetics in 1908 at the Biblical Seminary in New York and in 1925 joined the faculty of McCormick Theological Seminary.

He was author of several books including "The Birth and Infancy of Jesus Christ," "The Study of the English Bible," and "Roman Emperor Worship." With his son, Malcolm, he was co-author of "The Pastoral Ministry in Our Time," which was published in 1948 and became a selection of the Pulpit Book Club. His wife, the former Margaret Stuart, Skaneateles, died in December 1948.

Surviving are three sons, Malcolm, Carbondale, Pa.; Kenneth S., Wayne, Pa., and Hogarth, Chappaqua; a daughter, Mrs. William Ringrose, Clifford, Pa., nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral will be at 10 this morning from Trinity Episcopal Church, Carbondale. Burial will be in Skaneateles.

On the off chance that it may be an interest to you I am enclosing a brief historical sketch made by a Miss M.L. Sweet of Utica. Apparently she wrote this for my father's information. I also have a family history made by the Media Research Bureau some years ago which I imagine was culled from a few books. Some of the books, I think, are in the New York Public Library. This document is not a master piece. You may recall that the Readers' Digest tanned them severly in their publication some years ago. However, if you do not have a copy of this I would be glad to make one up and forward it to you.

I notice that one of the descendants of Silas Sweet of New Bedford, Massachusetts, had a son named Eber, however the dates do not seem to jibe very well. If you have any clues on Eber's parents I might try to follow them up in New York either in the public library or in the geneological library there. We enclose a carbon copy as well as the sketch I mentioned.

It just occurred to me that quite some years ago my father forwarded some information to a James Sweet in California. He was a doctor, I believe, residing in Santa Barbara. He was working on a geneology of the Sweet family. I believe he has since died; I don't know who is carrying on his work, if anyone.

Very truly yours
